

GRAPHIC DESIGNER
CONTRACT
Starting Feb 1st

Dancehouse is looking to start a new collaboration with a talented designer with creative flair keen to work with a thriving dance organisation for project-based jobs.

Dancehouse is the centre for independent dance in Melbourne. Through its programs of residencies, performance, training and research, Dancehouse is a space for developing challenging, invigorating, and socially engaged moving art. Dancehouse is a genuine tool for the dance-maker, a catalyst for developing new audiences and a facilitator of meaningful alliances and mobility schemes, in Australia and internationally.

To be considered for this role, you must have tertiary qualifications and/or equivalent industry experience in all aspects of graphic design and particularly in print production.

Applicants must have a comprehensive working knowledge of the print and web production processes, the ability to interpret, and where required, develop a creative brief as well as high-level finished artwork from conceptual stage through to pre-press set up and print production and delivery.

Ideally you will have:

The ability to quote accurate project time estimates
Proven ability to offer solutions when working with tight timelines
The ability to work within existing branding and style guides as a basis to expand and update
Ability to accept and implement design feedback for corrections and alterations
Strong interpersonal and communication skills
Strong attention to detail and an agile approach
Knowledge of the Melbourne arts scene
1-2 years experience in an agency or marketing environment

The successful applicant will work on wide range of project-based design projects, principally, the program brochure, posters and brand identity.

If your skill set and experience matches the above criteria, please email info@dancehouse.com.au with the following:

- A cover letter supporting your application – please ensure you address the following questions:

Why would you like to work for Dancehouse?

How would you describe Dancehouse in an image? In a word? In a typeface? Explain why

- A resume
- Some examples of your online and print work (maximum of 10 pieces)

Alternatively, you can call Claire Hielscher on 0409 789 694 for more details.

No recruiters please! Melbourne based applicants preferred

Applications close 5pm Sunday 17th January 2015
